

TENNESSEE RIGHT TO WORK LAW

Tennessee Code Annotated §50-1-201 et seq. states that it is unlawful for any employer or organization of any kind:

1. To deny or attempt to deny employment to any person by reason of the person's membership in, affiliation with, resignation from or refusal to join or affiliate with any labor union or employee organization of any kind.
2. To enter into any contract, combination or agreement, written or oral, providing for exclusion from employment of any person because of membership in, affiliation with, resignation from or refusal to join or affiliate with any labor union or employee organization of any kind.
3. To exclude from employment a person by reason of the person's payment of or failure to pay dues, fees, assessments or other charges to any labor union or employee organization of any kind.
4. Operating in this state to execute an agreement with a union or employee organization of any kind that includes a maintenance of membership clause prohibiting employees from withdrawing from a labor union or employee organization prior to the agreement's expiration. This section shall not apply to a city, town, municipality or county including a county having a metropolitan form of government.

An employer or organization of any kind violating any of the provisions of this part commits a Class A misdemeanor.
