

The Rhode Island State Only Labor Law Poster mandates you fill-in key details.

Sections to complete on the poster are:

Right to Know - Employers are required to let employees know if hazardous chemicals reside in the workplace. Use this form to fill-in the name of the company representative who will respond to employee inquiries and concerns regarding chemical hazards in the workplace.

Sexual Harassment - Provide employees the information they need should they fall prey to harassment at work. Use this section on your poster to fill-in the name and full contact details of the company representative who will respond to employee sexual harassment inquiries and concerns.

Discrimination - Provide employees with the information they need if they need to file a complaint regarding discrimination. Use this section of your poster to fill-in the name, title, and full contact details of the company representative who will respond to employee discrimination inquiries and concerns.

Workers' Compensation - Employees need to have quick access to information should they become injured at work. Use this section of your poster to fill in the name of your insurance company, your adjusting company, their telephone number, and the policy effective date